Be Aware of Scams!

There are so many scams out there in the world today, it boggles the mind. It's actually interesting to see new scams come down the line. I sometimes sit and wonder how people think these things up. The sad part is there is always a victim who loses to these scammers.

We have plenty of these type cases going on here in our own Township. Our department fields many calls from citizens who have had calls from someone trying to scam them out of their hard earned money.

Recently we had an elderly couple come to the station wanting to know if we could help them find a phone number for an alleged police officer and department in New Jersey. They stated the police there had called them about their grandson locked up and needing bail. They had lost the phone number that the original caller had supplied them and that is the only reason they came to us. We informed them this was a scam. They were rather hesitant to supply us further information because they had been told by the scammers not to discuss the case. They were to wire the money for bail after calling and receiving further instructions. They actually had several thousand dollars in an envelope with them. Thankfully they lost that phone number and came to us.

Most scams involve getting your money or getting your identity. Don't give any identity information out to people who call you on the phone. They will pretend to be all kinds of people ranging from the IRS to the police to your bank or credit card companies. These companies already have your information if you bank with them or have their credit cards so they don't need you to give it to them over the phone. The police can always drive to your door if they really need to talk to you. The IRS and other agencies will contact you by certified mail if there is an issue.

Don't give your money to people that make you an offer that sounds too good to be true because it is and you will lose your money. Once you lose that money it is highly likely that we the police will never be able to identify the individual who scammed you. If you receive a call that one of your family members needs money wired to them because of trouble don't do it. Don't you think that your family member would have called you in person for help? Even if they are in jail and need bail they get a phone call and will call in person.

We have quite a few brochures and books here at the police department about scams. Please stop by and pick some up they are free. If you have any questions about any calls you receive asking for information and suspect it is a scam please call us so we know it is going on in the area and we will help in any way we can.

Don't give away your hard earned money. Don't give away your identity information. Remember if it sounds too good to be true it is.

Morgantown History

100 Years Ago

On May 28, 1918, St. Thomas Episcopal Church (founded 1740) was struck by lightning and caught fire beneath the metal roof and the underlying wood shingles. The firefighters were unable to put out the fire before it destroyed the roof and supporting trusses, but neighbors and church members were able to remove some of the furniture to safety, including the pulpit, bishop's chair, and credence table. The stained glass memorial windows, only installed a few years earlier, were a total loss.

Sara Jenkins Kames, an elderly great-granddaughter of Col. Jacob Morgan met with Professor William B. Plank soon after the fire and urged him to plan the rebuilding of the church as soon as possible. The church ruins including the foundation and lower parts of the walls, sat abandoned for several years as the Congregation explored options for rebuilding.

Services were held in the Parish House until 1923 when a new one story church was built. Former Morgantown residents, Charles and Verna (Huyett) Sagner, were married there on March 16, 1929. This church was closed only during the Revolutionary War.

DID YOU KNOW?

Township residents are encouraged to stop by the Township building to see paintings and other historical items on display by the Tri County Historical Society.

FEATURED PAINTING (by Jere Brady)

Anyone who visits the Caernarvon Township, Berks County Municipal building in Morgantown has seen the displays, paintings and photographs of historic places within the township. As of July 19, 2018 a painting of a Morgantown living room showing apple blossoms on a stand on loan from Brady's Village Art Gallery was returned to make room for a painting of the mill complex along Mill Road showing the mill, the mill pond, the mill house, the barn and the cooper shop. It was painted in 1979 by Dan Numemaker who was a senior at Twin Valley High School. His Art teacher, Mrs. Eileen (Chisholm) Stremba was living in the millhouse and commissioned Dan to paint a memory of how that area originally looked. Mrs. Stremba had a vintage frame and adapted the painting on canvas into the frame. When she downsized, she wanted the painting to go to a place where more people could enjoy it, so she donated it to the Tri-county Heritage Society.
